DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 20-45 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in the reply filed on 12/28/2004. In response to applicants arguments regarding the restriction requirement, the examiner maintains the restriction requirement set forth in the previous office action. The restriction is based upon a combination/subcombination distinction and meets the requirements for this type of restriction. The restriction requirement is maintained; therefore, this requirement is made FINAL.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

1. Claims 1-6, 8, 10, 11, 12 -16, 18, 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Tharpe, Jr et al (#5,971,906). Tharpe, Jr et al show an apparatus comprising a platen 212, a forming rails 210, a first folding arm 218, compression plate 400 with fixed plate 420 that forms a passage there between and a second folding arm 412 for biasing against the portion of the formed tray through the passage. The in-feed conveyor is read on conveyor 116. Since conveyor 116 is a horizontal conveyor, the conveyor will hold a surface of the blank against a surface of the conveyor. Drive pneumatic means 220 are used for driving the platen from a first position above the blank to a biasing position for the initial folding position. The platen 212 has a rectangular portion to fold the front and rear panels fs1, rs1 perpendicular to front and rear panels f1, r1. Tharpe, Jr et al show folding rails 226, 230, 210, 228 as shown in figure 11 to fold the side portions, end portions and edge portions as claimed. The locking arm is read on element 60. Inherently, the drive devices must have some controller to synchronize the movements. Tharpe, Jr et al also show adhesive applying means 310 as claimed. The frame as claimed is read on elements 412. Regarding claims 15-16, 18, 19, the examiner notes that expressions relating the apparatus to contents thereof during an intended operation are of no significance in determining patentability of the apparatus claim. See ex parte Thibault, 164 USPQ 666, 667 (Bd App. 1969). Furthermore, inclusion of material or article worked upon by a structure being claimed does not impart patentability to the claims. In re Young, 75 F.2d 996, 25 USPQ 69 (CCPA 1935) (as restated in In re Otto, 312 F.2d 937, 136 USPQ 458, 459 (CCPA 1963))

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 7, 9, 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tharpe, Jr et al. Tharpe, Jr et al do not show beveled edges as claimed or a surface with depressions as claimed. However, the examiner takes official notice that it is well known in the art to use beveled edges or to have a surface with depressions for reducing the frictional contacting surface.

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
